

Matt Huckabay

Understanding the Abuse Experienced by Abused Women

Hope Healing & Help Radio Program

November 8, 2014

Matt Huckabay is the Executive Director for The Center for Violence-Free Relationships, a holistic family violence prevention and intervention organization located in Placerville, California. Prior to joining The Center's team, Mr. Huckabay enjoyed a successful career managing the volunteer component of The University of California Davis Medical Center's Hospice program.

Mr. Huckabay is a former member and past president of the board of directors for the California Coalition Against Sexual Assault and former regional representative to the California Partnership to End Domestic Violence.

Currently he is a member of the California Department of Public Health's Rape Prevention Education Steering Committee; serves as an advisor to the Blue Shield of California Foundation and is a member of the Coordinating Committee for the Foundations Blue Shield Against Violence – Strong Field Project, a 14 million dollar, 4 year initiative to build a strong, coordinated network of domestic violence service providers across the State of California.

He is a noted presenter across the state of California and has been a featured lecturer at events and trainings across the Nation. Mr. Huckabay has participated in roundtable discussions at the Aspen Institute in Washington D.C., and is a Senior Fellow with the American Leadership forum.

