

Through a Season of Grief Devotions for Your Journey from Mourning to Joy

By Bill Dunn and Kathy Leonard
Book Review by Jean Johnson

This devotional is based on the “Grief Share” healing program for people dealing with loss. It contains timely Biblical principles to help one understand what they are going through, and how to navigate through the dark waters.

Where do you go to find the help, comfort, and guidance you need to process your pain? This was one of the first books, ten years ago, I went to for the assistance I needed.

Early in my sorrow, this book brought me a better understanding of the journey of grief I have embarked upon, and provided scripture verses which brought comfort for each new day.

There are more than 30 esteemed leaders such as Kay Arthur, Jack Hayford, and Larry Crabb featured in “Through a Season of Grief,” who provide personal insights based on the losses in their own lives. Think of them as a personal guide assisting you through the boulders of pain and pitfalls of unhealthy grief.

Grief is long term, and though it changes as the months and years drone on, we all need extra support, until we can learn to smile again.

I would like to recommend this resource for a year of wisdom and inspiration for your challenging journey ahead. This is a great devotional to give as a gift to other fellow grievers as well.
